Reliance Holds the Line on Plumbing Strength as Valuation Tightens and Cyclical Risks Mount

We initiate coverage on Reliance Worldwide Corporation Ltd (ASX:RWC) with an underweight recommendation based on a 5-year target price of $3.24, implying a -18.24% downside to the last close of $3.96 as at 30th April 2025.

Reliance Worldwide Corporation (ASX: RWC) supplies plumbing and water control products across North America, Europe, and APAC under brands such as SharkBite and John Guest. While supported by a vertically integrated model, RWC faces ongoing input cost pressures and demand normalisation post-COVID. The company remains focused on operational efficiency and modest growth through product development and selective M&A;, with long-term demand underpinned by infrastructure maintenance and regulatory compliance.

Our analysis suggests that RWC's
